

Children's Art Day - register now to take part

Deadline: 6 to 12 July 2009

Children's Art Day is a national programme encouraging children, young people, families and teachers to engage with visual art.

Children's Art Day takes place during Shine week – a national schools festival celebrating talent in all young people. On Thursday 9 July the spotlight will be on the visual arts. Children's Art Day in 2009 is run by engage and supported by the Clore Duffield Foundation, the Mayor of London and Kids Love London, part of Visit London.

All visual arts venues, schools, youth and community organisations are invited to take part in Children's Art Day. The first 150 venues registering events will receive a grant of £50 as seed funding for an event, which can be claimed on the event's completion and on submission of a brief report. All participating venues will receive balloons and stickers with Children's Art Day branding, and will be offered support to attract media coverage for their events.

To register for Children's Art Day go to www.engage.org.
