

Michael Foyle, MA (Cantab)

Michael was educated at Clifton College and during his National Service (1951-53) he undertook the Russian Interpreters' Course and had a commission in the Intelligence Corps. Following this he undertook a Degree in Classics and Modern Languages at Cambridge University and during the 1980's he undertook Business Executive courses at London and Harvard Business Schools.

Michael has had a long association with John Wiley and Sons, International Science, Technology and Medical Publishers and was Managing Director from 1983-93 and Vice President, Europe.

Since retirement in 1993 Michael has spent three years in Moscow as publishing consultant for British and American Governments. Concurrently, together with his son Andrew they founded and built an internet and educational products company, which received City and overseas investment of $20million. He continues to act in a consultative capacity.

Michael has also been involved in various Charitable activities including Trustee/Governor of Chichester Festival Theatre, Chichester Cathedral, High School, New England College; ten years Chairman of Chichester Festivities and since 2007 the Chairman of New Park Community Centre.